

Palmers Green Safer Neighbourhood Team News

As we all rush towards the biggest gift giving day of the year. Please take care with those last minute parcel deliveries. If possible be in for your delivery. If not think about other options like an off-site locker for frequent deliveries and expensive items. Rearrange deliveries or leave with a neighbour if you won't be home. Install a video doorbell or security light like a dawn till dusk light to deter thieves.

There are a number of ways to protect your property. One way is via property marking and using Smartwater.

Don't forget to mark your new products after Christmas.

Don't publicize this year's gifts. Make sure packaging is out of sight inside your bin.

Another way to protect your property is by setting up an account with www.immobilise.com and registering your property. Anything that has a serial number can be added to your property list. Which then in turn helps police get stolen property back to its owner.

Good gifts to get those keyless car owners are a good quality steering lock and a faraday pouch or box. Don't forget to get two faraday pouches, one for your everyday key and one for the spare.

A good quality tracker as well as the manufacturer's tracker is a good idea too. Please make sure if you have a manufacturer's tracker fitted that it is activated. It can be too late in some cases after a car has been stolen.

There is a possibility that thieves are now using another access point to steal keyless cars via the on-board diagnostics port (OBD). So consider purchasing a car port lock. What is a car port lock? It is an extremely strong metal protective cap which prevents access to the OBD port. Without your coded key, the OBD protector is impossible to remove without damaging the plug and the wiring. No OBD access, means no electronic bypass of the vehicle by the thief.
