

What's this all about?

The North London Heat and Power Project is our proposal to build an Energy Recovery Facility to replace the existing plant at the EcoPark in Edmonton by 2025, so we can continue to recover energy – heat and power – from the waste left over after recycling.

Proposed Energy Recovery Facility

Why a replacement facility?

Current facility:

- Has served north London for 45 years
- Likely to reach end of its useful life in around 10 years
- Has diverted 21 million tonnes of waste from landfill

Landfill isn't a long-term option because:

- Taxation makes it expensive
- Sites are almost all outside London
- Produces methane – a potent greenhouse gas

New facility would:

- Provide enough power for 127,000 homes
- Be a replacement facility
- Be modern and efficient
- Be designed to respond sympathetically to Lee Valley Regional Park
- Have even better emission control than it does now

What can I do?

Who are we

North London Waste Authority (NLWA) arranges the disposal of waste collected by the seven London boroughs of Barnet, Camden, Enfield, Hackney, Haringey, Islington and Waltham Forest.

Working with local councils, we encourage and promote the three messages of reduce, re-use and recycle through waste prevention work in the community.

Heat and Power

Waste is a resource and we'll make the most of it:

- We'll use it to generate renewable energy
- It can produce heat for local homes and businesses
- It can provide enough power for around 127,000 homes

Let us hear your views

The consultation starts on 28 November 2014 until 27 January 2015 and is open to everyone.
