Bourne Hill - Proposed Zebra Crossing

Introduction

The Council is consulting local residents on a proposal to introduce a zebra crossing on Bourne Hill near Hoppers Road. This leaflet explains the Council's proposal and includes a plan showing the proposed measures. Your views can help the Council improve road safety for all road users.

Background

In recent years several studies have been carried out to investigate the possibility of providing controlled pedestrian facilities at the Bourne Hill/Hedge Lane/Green Lanes junction. However, this has proved difficult to achieve as the proposals would result in long queues and delays to traffic. As a result of this, consideration has been given to providing separate crossings on the approaches to the junction. The collision data for the last three years shows that two collisions involving personal injury occurred near the proposed location of the crossing, one of which resulted in a serious injury to a pedestrian.

Proposals

It is proposed to introduce a zebra crossing on Bourne Hill near Hoppers Road. The aim is to assist school children and other pedestrians to cross the road safely.

Advantages

There is a school in the vicinity of the proposed zebra crossing. This proposal will help children and parents to cross the road safely. It will also encourage more children and parents to walk to school thereby reducing congestion and improving health. It will also assist all pedestrians living or working in the area and encourage walking.

Disadvantages

There will be a loss of on street parking as a result of the proposed zebra crossing and its zig-zag markings.

Funding

This proposal will be paid for from money provided by a local developer and funds allocated to Enfield Council by Transport for London.

What Happens Next?

Local residents' views are an important factor in the Council's decision-making process. However, other factors such as the need to improve road safety for all road users and to take into account the national and local government strategies for reducing serious and fatal injuries also need to be considered.

All comments will be carefully considered by the Council, and if appropriate, modifications may be made to the proposals. If it is decided to proceed with the scheme, construction will commence in summer 2013. I will write to you again to inform you before any construction works are started.
