

A105 EXPERIMENTAL TRAFFIC ORDERS

Construction of the Cycle Enfield scheme on the A105 is now complete. However, some elements of the scheme are supported by experimental traffic orders so that we can assess their impact further, consider representations and make amendments if necessary.

A six-month period has now commenced during which anyone may object to the orders continuing indefinitely. In due course, the Council will consider whether the provisions of the experimental traffic orders should be made permanent.

To read more about the elements supported by experimental traffic orders and to find out how to let us have your views visit www.cycleenfield.co.uk/a105eto
